Voorwoord

Eindelijk kan de antiquarenbeurs in Amsterdam weer doorgaan. Bezoekers en antiquaren hebben er lang naar uit gekeken. Deze keer geen virtuele beurs maar een beurs waar u boeken en prenten ter hand kunt nemen en in gesprek kunt gaan met onze leden. Vanaf 1935, toen onder de bezielende leiding van Menno Hertzberger de Nederlandsche Vereeniging van Antiquaren (NVvA) werd opgericht, was het organiseren van beurzen een belangrijke activiteit. Inmiddels ligt de gezamenlijke NVvA catalogus (joint catalogue) met een apart beurs-katern van de veertigste beurs van de NVvA voor u klaar. Antiquaren uit binnen- en buitenland bieden hier hun bijzondere en waardevolle boeken en prenten aan. Gedurende de beursdagen zal in de stands van de deelnemers, een nog groter en rijk gevarieerd aanbod van antiquarische en bibliofiele boeken en originele prenten gepresenteerd worden. Een 'snoepwinkel' van vijf eeuwen papieren werelderfgoed.

Het bestuur van de NVvA bedankt de beurscommissie die dit jaar weer de organisatie voor de beurs in het Marriott Hotel op zich heeft genomen.

Meer informatie over onze leden treft u aan op onze website www.nvva.nl Via deze site kunt u een bezoek brengen aan de websites van onze leden en kennisnemen van hun met zorg beschreven antiquarische boeken en prenten. Voor inlichtingen over alle leden van de International League of Antiquarian Booksellers (ILAB) gaat u naar www.ilab.org

Ik dank de redactie die zorggedragen heeft voor deze gezamenlijke catalogus. Uit naam van onze vereniging wens ik u veel leesplezier. We kijken uit naar uw bezoek aan de beurs in het Marriott Hotel in Amsterdam, op 10 en 11 juni.

Preface

Finally, the antiquarian book fair in Amsterdam can take place again! Visitors and antiquarian booksellers have been looking forward to it for a long time. Not a virtual fair this time, but a fair where you can pick up books and prints, and meet our members in person.

When the Dutch Association of Antiquarian Booksellers (NVvA) was founded in 1935 under the inspiring leadership of Menno Hertzberger, organizing fairs was an important activity from the start. This year, we will convene in the Amsterdam Marriott Hotel to celebrate the 40th edition of our fair. In the catalogue not only NVvA-members will showcase their highlights, but fair participants from abroad will present their special and valuable books and prints as well, in the seperate book fair section. During the book fair days, the participants will present an even larger and richly varied selection of antiquarian and bibliophile books and original prints. A veritable 'candy shop' filled with five centuries of paper world heritage.

The board of the NVvA would like to thank the book fair committee for all their hard work, now and over the past years. More information about our members can be found on our website www.nvva.nl. Via this site you can visit the websites of our members and peruse their carefully described antiquarian books and prints. For information on all members of the International League of Antiquarian Booksellers (ILAB), visit www.ilab.org

I would like to thank the editors who took care of this joint catalogue. On behalf of our association, I wish you a lot of reading pleasure. We look forward to your visit to the fair at the Marriott Hotel in Amsterdam on 10 and 11 June.

RUSSIAN MILITARISTIC CHILDREN'S BOOK

MARSHAK, S. - V. LEBEDEV. Мы военные. [My voennye = We are soldiers]. Moscow/ Leningrad, Detizdat TSK VLKSM [= Central Committee of the Komsomol], 1938. 1st edition. Oblong 4to, ca. 21.5 x 29 cm. (28) pp. All pages illustrated in colour. Original illustrated wrappers. € 1450

Very rare, and also a first edition of a militaristic Russian children's book by the poet Samuil Marshak (1887-1964) and the artist Vladimir Lebedev (1891-1967). According to the colophon, this book was published in 100,000 copies. A 2nd ed. was published in 1939 and a 3rd in 1940. Nevertheless, we could locate only very few copies of any edition in libraries worldwide. The plates depict small children as cavalryman, pilot with camera, artillery driver, red cross nurse, tank driver, sailor on battleship "Bolochaevka", medics (one in gas mask), field cook, cannoneer, ski patrol, militia, and a K-9 officer. This war themed children's book served as an object of amusement and to propagate military values and patriotism.

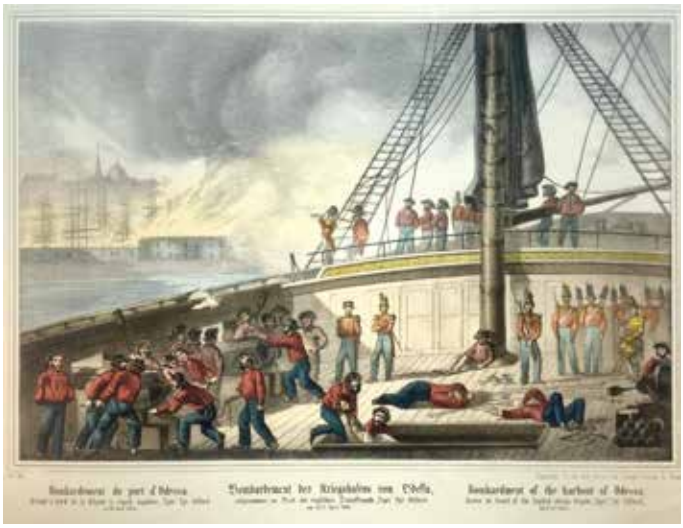
DRAWN ABOARD OF AN ENGLISH MILITARY SHIP IN ACTION



POPULAR PRINT- [CRIMEAN WAR]. Bombardment of the harbour of Odessa (-), April 22d. 1854. Bombardement du Port d'Odessa (-). Bombardement des Kriegshafens von Odessa (-). Mainz, Jos. Scholz, ca. 1855-1860. ca. 33 x 42 cm. Large, handcoloured lithographed image, as stated 'drawn on board' of the British steam paddle-wheel frigate 'Tiger' under command of Captain Gifford, with injured soldiers on deck, while bombarding the city of Odessa. Titled in French, German and English underneath. € 375

Fine, surprisingly rare popular print showing a vivid naval battle scene during the Crimean war, the military conflict fought from October 1853 to February 1856 between the Russian Empire and an alliance of the Ottoman Empire, France, Britain and Sardinia. On 22 April 1854, an Anglo-French fleet arrived off Odessa and opened fire on the Russian positions. A French grenade hit a Russian army magazine on the Imperial Mole, which exploded, causing great damage. About 24 Russian ships in the military port and dockyard storehouses were set on fire. By the end of the day the attack ended and the Anglo-French squadron withdrew. The attack neutralized Odessa as a naval base for the rest of the war, allowing the Allies to freely operate in the Black Sea and keep their supply lines open. - A good copy.

BROADSIDE - [MODEL OF AN ENGLISH 74-GUN SHIP - TRAVELLING SHOWMAN] LANG, Chr. F. (former sailor of the Dutch Navy). Ein englisches vier und zwanzigmal verjüngtes, 10 Fuss langes Linien-Schiff genannt der Herkules von 74 Kanonen. Mit hoher Bewilligung ist gegenwärtig zu jeder Stunde allhier zu sehen. Karlsruhe, Christoph Friedrich Lang, ca. 1810-1830. Plano, ca. 35 x 22 cm. € 950

Extremely rare poster, an announcement of the exhibition of a large ca. 3 meter large ship model, a 74-gun third-rate ship formerly used at an English naval Academy to instruct cadets and now owned by the showman Mr. Christoph Friedrich Lang from Stuttgart, a former sailor working for the Dutch Navy. The ship could be viewed by paying visitors at the 'Rothes Haus' in Karlsruhe, a building described as identifiable by a naval flag hanging outside. Mr. Lang would show the model and explain the workings of the enormous ship. A booklet with detailed information was on sale at the entrance. We found 4 copies of the booklet: "Beschreibung eines Linien- oder Kriegsschiffes vom ersten Rang (-) ein in England verfertigtes ... Model", dated 1808, 1810, 1826, and 1828; the copy of 1828 in the private library of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, in Weimar. However, we could not find any other copy of our broadside. - A very good copy with its full broad margins.

MAFIA KILLINGS

ORIGINAL PHOTOGRAPHS - [MAFIA – SICILY] SCAFIDI, Nicolo (1925-2004) & possibly his father Giusto Scafidi. Chilling and beautiful images of mob killings, grieving families and funerals. 5 Vintage silver print photographs on baryta paper, printed at the time, with a manuscript description and the photographers studio stamp 'Scafidi' on verso, ca. 29.5 x 23.5 cm. 'Borgetto: Omicidio Francesco Barone' (April 1960); 'Omicidio Barone Francesco'; Corleone: Duplice omicidio Streva'; Villabate. Sebastiono Ignoto. 1966. € 1250

A PRAYER AGAINST THE ENEMY

CLANDESTINE PRINTING - [H.N. WERKMAN] - LUTHER, M. - Henkels, F.R.A. (annot.). Ein Gebet wider den Türken 1541. (Heerenveen), De Blauwe Schuit, 1943. Small 4to. (4) pp. Original wrappers with an illustration, 'druksel' on front, printed in 6 colours by H.N. Werkman. € 1650

Very good copy of a rare 'Werkman' title, a prayer against the enemy, printed in 75 copies only. The Dutch designer and printer Hendrik Werkman (1882-1945) is best known for his innovative printing techniques and avant-garde typography. He was the publisher of 'De Blauwe Schuit', a series of underground booklets produced by dissident authors and poets, including Jewish writers, during the Nazi occupation of The Netherlands. Werkman was imprisoned by German secret police in 1945 and executed without trial just three days before the liberation of the Netherlands. Logboek van De Blauwe Schuit, p. 41; Zuithoff p. 57; Cat. Hot Printing 43-g9; De Jong 286; Cf. Alston W. Purvis, H. N. Werkman, Yale Univ. Press, 2004.

THE FIRST FOREIGN TOURISTS VISIT ISRAELI SEIZED TERRITORIES SHORTLY AFTER THE SIX-DAY WAR

COLLECTION OF PHOTOGRAPHS - [ISRAELI-ARAB CONFLICT - SIX-DAY WAR] DONY, Bianca. (Photographer, journalist). Vintage photographs of the first touristic trip for foreigners to Israel and newly occupied territories after the ending of the Six-Day war, leading from Haifa to East Jerusalem, Bethlehem and other holy places, including images of remnants of war. 40 Vintage silver gelatin photographs by Bianca Dony, made in 1967, 23 to 25 July, each ca. 24 x 18 cm, showing the passenger ship SS. Pegasus in Haifa, street scenes in besieged cities, destroyed military vehicles, tanks, checkpoints, armed soldiers, Arab refugees, long queues of Arab people waiting for rationed gazoline, an improvised war monument, the West Bank: Nablus, Galilea, East Jerusalem, et cetera. The photographs are printed at the time, some with a description and the photographers stamp on verso, kept loose in sleeves. - Added: An original paperclipping from the 'Jerusalem Post' headed: 'Haifa direct to old city for the first time'. € 1450

A rare collection of 40 original photographs by Bianca Dony (1935-), Dutch photographer and journalist who travelled with a group of 150 Christian tourists from various European countries immediately after the Six-Day war, to the West bank, East Jerusalem, Bethlehem and other places that had been previously been inaccessible to Israeli. She took the opportunity to document the aftermath of the war. The Six-Day war was an armed conflict fought from 5 to 10 June 1967 between Israel and a coalition of Arab states. After the Israeli victory, Israel seized the Golan Heights from Syria, the West Bank (including East Jerusalem) from Jordan, and the Gaza Strip as well as the entire Sinai Peninsula from Egypt. Some of the present photographs were used in Dutch newspapers and periodicals, others remained unpublished in the archive of the photographer.

In very good condition. Provenance: from the archives of the photographer. - Cf: On the function of tourism in the immediate aftermath of (the six-day) war: Stein, Rebecca L. EXTRAORDINARY 18TH C. MANUSCRIPT - WITH A SEPARATE TROMPE-L'OEIL BY THE SAME MAKER

CALLIGRAPHIC MANUSCRIPT - BOUT, Hendrik. Het boek der Psalmen, nevens de gezangen by de Hervormde Kerk van Nederland in Gebruik [And:] De Heidelbergze Catechismus. Amsterdam, "Met de Penne geschreeven, door Hendrik Bout. In den Jaare 1785 en 1786". 4to. (774) pp. The text entirely in manuscript with drawn musical scores, all in an exceptional fine hand, the 2 separate titles heightened with gold. The frontispiece drawn and written by the same, "met de Pen getekent door H. Bout. 1795, Oud 63 Jaar". Contemporary calf binding, richly gilt decorated in compartments with a red morocco letterpiece, double panelled sides each with a large flower-basket. With the bookplate of Isaac Meulman. Kept in a book-shaped mahogany case with movable back, with a lock and key. ADDED: An undated trompe l'oeil also by H. Bout, a laudatory poem on him and the present manuscript work by Willem Liedermooy, dated 1788, centrally placed within columns, flanked to the left by 2 pages on the writer and his art, 'Pennekonst'; and to the right 2 pages on the printer and his art. ca. 38 x 54.5 cm. € 16 500

One can only marvel at this work by Hendrik Bouts, of whom we couldn't find no other personal details than that he lived in Amsterdam. His friend Willem Liedermooy had a shop in Amsterdam selling cloth ('katoen- en sitsenwinkel') that went bankrupt in 1795. The present work was in the library of the well-known bibliophile Isaac Meulman (1807-1868), a rich sugar refiner who dedicated his life to book collecting. He had a famous large library, including an exceptional collection of Lutheriana and pampflets, that was sold in auction by Frederik Muller in Amsterdam in 1869. Our manuscript, lotnr. 2639 - a 'Spécimen remarquable de calligraphie .. (-)' stood out as one of the more extensive and admirably described items. - In very good condition. The trompe l'oeil strengthened on folds on verso.

REMARKABLE MINIATURE BOOKCASE

BOOKBINDERS PROOF - [MINIATURE BOOKS] - Miniature bookcase with glass doors, containing 31 miniature volumes, including 6 gilt decorated and blind stamped full, h.calf or morocco bindings, 11 gilt decorated cloth bindings and 14 paper bindings, all without text, by a yet unknown Dutch binder. The Netherlands, ca. 1830. The bookcase 15 x 11 x 7.5 cm. The tallest book 4.2 cm; the smallest 3.3 cm. in height, and with differing wides. € 5500

Desirable and rare object, probably made by a bookbinder as a showcase of the types of bindings he could make, with the additional challenge of the smallness of size to show his craftsmanship.

THE SMALLEST CAST TYPE EVER, PRINTED FROM DIDOT'S ORIGINAL TYPE

PRESENTATION COPY - [MINIATURE BOOK - DIDOT-POLYAMATYPE]. Grondwet voor het Koninkrijk der Nederlanden. Haarlem, Joh. Enschedé en Zonen, 1861. 1st edition. Miniature book. 6.7 x 4.3 cm. 64 pp. The book is placed on a contemporary made miniature lectern of white board with gilt die-cut ornaments, accompanied by a small faux pen of thread adorned with silver-coloured die-cut ornaments, the object protectively placed under a glass dome on a wooden base. Original gilt lettered, blindstamped cloth, all edges gilt. € 5500

Extraordinary and unique presentation copy of a miracle in microscopic printing, a miniature book handset with a type created in 1827 by Henri Didot the Elder (1765-1852). In 1827, Didot engraved the microscopic type called 'Non Plus Ultra', the smallest cast type ever, only 2 ½ pt., or 0.94 mm. in height. "This font was a high achievement of typefounder's art. The minuteness was such that the types could not be cast in the ordinary way; hence Henri Didot invented a special apparatus, to which he gave the name of polyamatype, and by means of which they were cast, a hundred letters at a time". (Bigmore & Wyman).
Didot's original type was bought in 1850 by the Dutch printing firm Johan Enschedé in Haarlem. It was used by Enschedé for the first time in the present edition, the Constitution ('Grondwet') of the Netherlands. Our copy is to our knowledge the only one bound in cloth, all other copies are in grey printed wrappers, and it is beautifully presented on a contemporary made lectern.
In very good condition. Provenance: From the estate of a Dutch antiquarian bookseller. - On the 'Non plus ultra' type and its publications: Thürkôw, A.G. De Boekenwereld, Vol. V, (1988-1989); on Didot's type bought by Enschedé: Bigmore & Wyman I, 177; Bondy pp. 91.

¶ Rare second(?) edition (one of three dated "1632") of a popular Greek and Latin school book, edited by the famous Dutch neo-Latin poet, humanist and Leiden Professor of Greek, Daniel Heinsius (1580-1655), with 47 beautiful woodcut illustrations by Christoffel van Sichem II. Aesop's fables were prescribed by the States of Holland in the Hollandsche schoolordre of 1625 as one of the books to be read in the 3rd class. Christoffel van Sichem II (ca. 1577-1658), the second of several woodcut artists in that family, studied with Jacques de Gheyn and was one of the leading Dutch book illustrators in the first half of the 17th century. Although the book has no prize certificate or inscription and no owner's name, the coat-of-arms of the city of Amersfoort on the binding of a school book strongly suggests a prize binding for a student at the Amersfoort Latin school. With an occasional contemporary manuscript note in Greek and Latin. With a small dark stain in the lower inside corner of the foot margin of many leaves, not approaching the text, and with very slight browning throughout, but still in good condition. The vellum of the binding is dirty and slightly rubbed but also good. Landwehr, Emblem & fable books F025 (2 copies)

VERY RARE FIRST EDITION OF SCANDINAVIAN FISH, WITH ALL 63 PLATES,

With 63 lithographic plates, 59 beautifully and extremely subtly coloured by hand as published, some showing 2 or more fish per plate. Modern half tan morocco (Johanna Röjgård). € 9750

THE BUDDHIST THIRD CLASS JUNKMAIL ORACLE

The complete set of 24 numbers.

PLUS the Ultra Rare PRECURSOR:

SWAMP ERIE "Pipe Dream". Vol. 1 no 1 (all publ.) Cleveland: d. a. levy, 1967. Tabloid, [4] pp. incl. covers, single folded sheet. Offset printed on newsprint. Old horizontal fold and additional creasing, toning, and some short marginal tears, still about very good.

THE BUDDHIST THIRD CLASS JUNKMAIL ORACLE: comprises Nos. 1-24 (all publ.). Cleveland/ Ohio, 1967- December 1969. Also numbered as: Nos. 1-13 (which is also vol. 2 no 1, then the numbering continues from there, becoming vol. 2 nos. 2-6 of which the last 4 were named also first to fourth last issue and then publication continued with the "last issue" numbering as 5th to 11th last issue, then it stopped definitely). Newsprint, tabloids; illustrated throughout in b/w; light sunning on edges, very mild edge wear, and incidentally a little wear over de folds, but (the newsprint paper taken into account) this set is in quite good condition. € 16 000

¶ Underground journals produced by d. a. levy in Cleveland. All published during his lifetime and edited by d. a. levy himself. The "Swamp Erie Pipe Dream" is the only issue of this remarkable underground journal, something of a predecessor to the Buddhist Third Class Junkmail Oracle. This issue includes much Buddhist content, as well as levy's poem "the bells of the Cherokee Ponies," a much-deserved attack on prosecutor George Moscarino, and more information about the police raid on James Lowell's Asphodel Bookshop. The "Oracle"is profusely illustrated with collage art by d.a.levy and others. Heavily Buddhist influenced, promoting drugs and reporting from the counter-culture underground scene of Cleveland, and also news taken from papers of other cities. His radical collage art, concrete poetry, and publishing always put him in conflict with the powers that be in Cleveland: he was arrested and harassed constantly and died under mysterious circumstances (suicide? murder?) at the age of 26 in 1968. Publication was continued by his friend, Steve Ferguson, until 24l Mar. 1970. Contribs. include Allen Ginsberg, Gary Snyder, John Sinclair, Russell Atkins, Charles Bukowski, Doug Blazek, Paul Puhle, Michae Lesy (photograph), etc; interview with The Velvet Underground, increasing attention to underground music and bands visiting Cleveland (Syeve Miller, Stone Poneys, Jefferson Airplane, The Who); passages from The Tibetan Book of the Dead; typical d.a.levy collages throughout, also in the advertising; Religious Collage North American Jewish Tantra. In no. 15 a piece by Rudi Dutschke etc.; the last issues numbering started where Jim Ferguson took over; no. 18 being the 'Fourth Last Issue' published after the suicide of D. A. Levy, with his photograph on the front page and the text 'Wanted for the assassination of D.A. Levy'. Very rare complete ongoing set from the beginning. (Vol. 2 nos 5 and 6 also as 'The Barking Rabbit or the Buddhist Oracle", ed. by John Rose.)

Deze cartobibliografie met bijna 180 kaartbeschrijvingen en meer dan 600 afbeeldingen in kleur bevat een uitgebreid onderzoek naar alle gedrukte kaarten tot 1860 van het hertogdom Gelderland en de kwartieren Nijmegen, Roermond, Veluwe en Zutphen. Er wordt gedetailleerd ingegaan op de geografische, waterstaatkundige en politieke veranderingen die dit deel van de Zeventien Provinciën in de loop van enkele eeuwen heeft ondergaan. Voorafgaand aan de cartobibliografie wordt in een aantal inleidende hoofdstukken, geschreven door verschillende experts, aandacht besteed aan de geschiedenis van dit hertogdom in het algemeen en de karteringen door de verschillende kartografen in het bijzonder. Tevens is een Engelse en een Duitse samenvatting opgenomen.

With approximately 180 map descriptions and over 600 full colour illustrations, this cartobibliography offers a full description of the maps of the Duchy of Gelre and today's province of Gelderland, printed between 1543 and 1860. The introductory chapters give an overview of the history of the duchy and the maps by the various cartographers in particular. In Dutch, with an English and German summary.

Dick (Dirk Izaäk) Blonk studied medicine in Utrecht and Rotterdam. After his retirement, he followed a course on historic cartography by professor Günter Schilder, dr. Peter van der Krogt and dr. Paul van den Brink. Together with his wife, he was the author of Hollandia Comitatus: Een kartobibliografie van Holland (2000) and Zeelandia Comitatus: Geschiedenis en cartobibliografie van de provincie Zeeland tot 1860 (2010).

Peter van der Krogt wrote a thesis on the production of terrestrial and celestial globes in the Netherlands and is the author of the series Koeman's Atlantes Neerlandici, a bibliography of atlases published in the Netherlands. He is the Jansonius curator and head of the Explokart research program at the Special Collections at the University of Amsterdam.

2 volumes in 1. 4to. Old half vellum. With half-page engraved title-vignette, engraved portrait of Bontekoe, 2 engravings in the text, and 9 double-page or folding engraved views. 80 pp. € 5500

¶ First published in Hoorn in 1646, in 1647 several piracy editions were issued; the 1648 edition is the authentic second and best augmented edition. - After having passed Madagascar, Bontekoe's ship the Nieu Hoorn caught fire and exploded. The survivors continued their voyage in a small open sloop and after much suffering and many adventures they were rescued in Straits Sunda by a Dutch fleet in command of Frederik Houtman. In 1622 Bontekoe commanded one of the ships in Cornelis Reijersen's war fleet, and his adventures on the expedition along the China coast were hardly less spectacular than those of the outward voyage. He took part in the attack on Macao, and his ship was one of the fleet which raided the coast of Fukien province. Finally he returned to his hometown Hoorn in 1625. This account of the ship-wreck, a wonder of seaman-ship, has became a classic and went through many editions and was translated into nearly every European language. From the beginning Raven's 'Journael of te beschrijvinge vande reyse ghedaen by den commandeur Dirck Albertsz. Raven, na Spitsbergen, in den jare 1639 ten dienste van de .. Groenlandtsche Compagnie tot Hoorn' was added to Bontekoe's voyage. Raven too suffered shipwreck. This edition of 1648 was augmented with accounts of four other expeditions which took place in 1645 and 1646.

Two-part serigraph, hinged, each part 70:55.5 cm, on transparent film and on a wooden panel, housed in the original wedge-shaped plexiglass frame-box (72:57 cm.). Double signed and numbered, once on top of the second part of the serigraph and once on the edition label at the verso of the frame-box. The plexiglass shows some wear and a few imperfections. On the whole a very presentable copy of a striking object. A true conversation piece! € 2000

Photo archive, the poem in manuscript (2p.), the publisher's press release and the AMO edition (1987 Amstelveen) of the poem: Love Song Revisited (number 5 of 25 copies with a dedication from Hugo Claus to Andreas Landshoff). € 7500

¶ Andreas Landshoff initiated this spectacular book project for Harry N. Abrams New York, bringing together the work of Dutch Cobra painter Karel Appel and the poetry of 'Holland's (sic.) leading surrealist author' (quote from the publisher's press release) Hugo Claus, in an oversized (210 cm. high and 80 cm. wide) luxurious edition.
¶ 17 vintage B/W photographs by Ed van der Elsken, with photographer's stamp on the reverse (4 sized 40:30 cm. and 13 sized 18:23,5 cm.), 2 vintage B/W photographs by Augustin Dumage, with photographer's stamp on the reverse, and 2 colourslides (5,5:5,5 cm.) for publicity purpose (photographer unknown) in passe-partout. One of the colour-slides has a small tear in the image. This collection of photographs documents part of the realization and the presentation of the first (and only) copy of the largest art book in the world, and includes many double portraits of Karel Appel and Hugo Claus in signature Van der Elsken style.
The exclusive edition of Love Song was supposed to be produced in twelve copies. Although the project attracted much publicity, including an entry in the Guinness Book of Records, and book launches took place in New York and Amsterdam, no copies were ordered or produced. Only the presentation copy was sold; to an American collector who supposedly used it as a folding screen to decorate his swimming pool.

¶ 'Editions of artists' works are always alluring publishing propositions. For only in such editions is it possible to represent a man's entire artistic output chronologically and thus make it possible to see the continuity or the sudden shifts in his artistic development. This possibility is realized here, with the help of the Dietz system of reproduction, to a degree that far exceeds the compass of all previous reproductions.'

¶ 'Since each plate in this series was prepared individually, the entire edition represents an enormous amount of preliminary work to make sure that in each case the materials and colours were identical to those of the original work of art. The Dietz system is based on a combination of elements of the silkscreen printing process with photochemical color separation.'

¶ 'It is self-evident that the producer and publisher are aware of the responsibility that goes with the publication of reproductions that look so authentic. Each plate of this edition of Marini's works is therefore provided with a notation, inserted between the layers and visible under X-ray, which cannot be eradicated and which thus prevents any improper use of the plates.'

A DUTCH LUXURY GENEALOGY OF THE HIGHEST RANK

Scharp, Jan. Familie-aanteekeningen van verscheidene eeuwen betreffende het geslacht Scharp. En andere daar mede van tyd tot tyd verzwaagerde familien. Tot zijn eigen genoegen en tot nut zijner afstammelingen verzaameld en in orde gebragt. Ao 1802. ¶ Manuscript in black ink, calligraphed by Hermannus Ormel in 1804. XXVI, 154, [2] p. ¶ With an allegorical washed ink frontispiece signed "C: Groeneveld delijn, Rotterdam 1803", 7 portraits and historical plates in washed ink and 19 coats of arms embedded in marvelous bright colour gouaches of marble monuments partly heigthened with egg shell. Title page and half titles within a multicoloured border. Each illustration is protected by a blue paper leaf. ¶ Green calf, tooled in gold. On the covers a rich double border decoration, the inner of red morocco. Flat spine with large vertical red title shield. Edges gilt and simply gauffered. [Bosch bindery, Rotterdam]. In a modern protective box. € 13 500

This manuscript comprises the genealogy of the originally Scottish Scharp or Sharp family and its connected branches (Roithan, Knoll and Ihle), dating from 1390 till 1802, which came via Austria to Holland. It is compiled by the famous Dutch church minister Jan Scharp (The Hague 1756 - Rotterdam 1828), to prove his noble pedigree for himself and his offspring. He wrote his own extensive biography on p. 47-75ff, followed by a washed ink drawing of a silhouette portrait of himself and his wife. ¶ It starts with an interesting long introductory justification for making this genealogy. He states that it should not be regarded as a sign of hypocrasy and pride (III-XXI). ¶ The first section is "Eerste geslachtsregister van Jan

Scharp, behelzende de familie Scharp" (1-87). Separately dealt with are the Italian branch (Scarpi), the German branch (Scharpff) and the English branch (Sharp). It is illustrated with portraits, historical events and coats of arms of the most famous forefathers: Joannes Scharpius Oxoniensis (ca 1390, first attested member of the dynasty), Fra Paolo Scarpi (1552-1623), author of the History of the Council of Trient (1619), friend of Gallilei, Francis Bacon and William Harvey. "The most reverend father in God James Sharp" archdeacon, murdered by the Puritans in 1679, "The most reverend father in God John Sharp", archdeacon of York (1650-1713). The second section deals with the Engelcke family (89-119). The third section deals with the families Roithan, Knol and Ihle (122-152). ¶ - Jan Scharp (1756-1828) was a very active church minister who wrote a lot of theological and historical treatises. His album amicorum is kept in the Royal Library (KB) Den Haag. In Het Nederlands patriciaat 3 (1913) p. 348ff is made mention of a Scharp family, this however seems to be a completely different branch, with other coats of arms. ¶ - Cornelis Groeneveld (fl. 1795-1813) was a miniature painter and draughtsman. In 1811 he painted the arrival of Willem I in Scheveningen. ¶ - Hermanus Ormel (1768-1845) was a schoolmaster, who did incidentally calligraphical work. ¶ The very high quality binding is made by the Rotterdam Bosch Bindery, which was active from 1767-1802. - Literature: DDB IIa, p. 453-463. - Condition: Binding some unobtrusive rubbing; else a very fine copy.

SIGHTS OF NAGASAKI, INCLUDING JAPANESE VIEWS OF THE DUTCH: THE FAMED ARTS OF EDO FIND A NEW MARKET

ISONO BUNSAI (BUNSAI MADAKI). Nagasaki miyage [= Souvenir of Nagasaki]. Nagasaki, Yamato-ya Yoshihei juo, Koka 4 [= 1847]. 23 x 15.5 cm. Text and illustrations printed from 42 woodblocks, probably on kozo (mulberry bark) paper (vertical chainlines about 34 mm apart), with an astrological figure and constellation on the title-page (the Mao Xiu lunar mansion?), 12 double-page and 6 full-page illustrations (a few with Dutch titles as well as Japanese) including a map of Nagasaki harbour (showing the Dutch and Chinese trading factories and three ships), two Chinese merchants at a table in the factory library while their servant unpacks a chest of books, a bedroom with a VOC captain(?) and merchant(?), the latter with his pocket watch and Indonesian servant, a cluster of Japanese ships making a dense forest of masts, a landscape with dozens of kites, another with many people on a bridge over a river, a Dutch VOC ship in great detail, etc. Original publisher's blue paper wrappers in the traditional Japanese fukurotoji manner, publisher's manuscript title-label on front wrapper. € 3250

¶ Beautiful copy of a rare and gorgeously illustrated woodblock tour of sights in Nagasaki and surroundings, giving special attention to the Dutch (and Chinese) traders, with text mostly in Japanese characters and woodcuts with landscapes, interiors, festival processions, and city views by Isono Bunsai (also known as Bunsai Madaki). One of the printed inscriptions notes that the book "offers a variety of Nagasaki prints depicting objects from abroad by the Chinese and red hairs [meaning the Dutch] as well as woodcuts depicting these foreigners". The book gives a good view of the manners, practices and the daily life of both Chinese and Western traders living in Nagasaki, especially the Dutch at Dejima, who were granted special privileges to trade with Japan. This genre of single souvenir prints and collections of prints from Nagasaki proved very popular with both the Japanese and the foreign merchants visiting Nagasaki.

FIRST AND BILINGUAL EDITION OF PLUTARCH'S COLLECTED WORKS, INCLUDING THE "FREQUENTLY WANTING" APPENDIX VOLUME, WITH THE OWNER'S INSCRIPTIONS AND MARGINAL ANNOTATIONS OF PHILIPS OF MARNIX OF SAINT-ALDEGONDE

[PLUTARCH]. [In Greek:] Ploutarchou Chaironeos ta sozomena syngrammata [and Latin:]. Plutarchi Chaeronensis quae extant opera, cum Latina interpretatione. ... [Geneva], Henri II Estienne, 1572. 2 works in 3 parts, in 13 volumes. 8vo. Both in Latin and Greek, making 12 volumes and a 13th appendix volume. Uniformly bound in 18th-century(?) gold-tooled brown morocco with richly decorated spines, gilt edges. € 55 000

¶ A complete set of the first bilingual edition of the collected works of Plutarch, being a text-critical edition in Greek and its Latin translation, printed and edited by Henri II Estienne, including the appendix volume often lacking. As often stated in the literature, "complete sets are extremely uncommon" (Brunet), because "one often sees the various parts offered for sale separately" (Schreiber). Schreiber notes that some copies have an additional unnumbered 66 leaves (supplementing the appendix), namely an Index rerum et verborum, present here in the third volume of the Latin Moralia. Thanks to Rudolf de Smet, professor emeritus at the VU Brussel and also responsible for the five-volume work Marnix epistulae, we know for sure that these copies derive from the library of Philips of Marnix, Lord of Saint-Aldegonde (1540-1598), advisor to William of Orange (1533-1584) and the probable author of the Dutch national anthem (the Wilhelmus). His owner's inscription appears three times, namely on the title-pages of the first volume of the Greek Moralia and the second and third volume of the Greek Vitae. These volumes also contain marginal annotations written by Marnix himself, both the Greek and Latin ones. Especially the way he wrote some Greek letter forms can be seen as a "fingerprint" for Marnix.
An attractively bound complete set of the first edition of Plutarch's collected works, including the rare appendix volume, is in very good condition and has a very important provenance. For more information on the ownership of Philips of Marnix of Saint-Aldegonde and the research of Rudolf de Smet on the marginal annotations of the present volumes, please send us an inquiry. ¶ First issue of the second edition, probably printed by Prault in Paris, only one month after the first edition, in December 1748, and the only one with errata. The first edition can be recognized through various points: the name of Barillot is written with a double 'r'; the title reads 'Loix Féodales'; there are numerous cartons (all listed by Tchemerzine and Le Petit) and no errata. Here the name of Barillot is written with one 'r', the title reads 'Loix féodales' and there are no cartons present, the text is modified and this copy contains in volume one the errata for both volumes.

¶ Montesquieu was one of France's most influential Enlightenment authors. His writing resonates with the values of human freedom, moderation, and toleration, while demonstrating a realist and detailed attentiveness to the complexity of rules, customs, physical forces, and human motivations that shape social and political life. The Esprit de Loix is his major work and Hume, a correspondent of Montesquieu, praised the work as "the best system of political knowledge that, perhaps, has ever yet been communicated to the world." The main significance of Montesquieu as a political theorist may be his success in recognizing the embeddedness of state institutions in a wide web of human practices, such as religion, commerce, customs, and morals. Political effectiveness depends on the state's ability to recognize and work with the complexity of human associational life, and this in turn requires political moderation (Encyclopedia of the Enlightenment, iii, pp. 83-88). Jonathan I. Israel calls the book, in his Radical Enlightenment (p. 12) "a landmark of moderate Enlightenment."

Second, enlarged and best edition of the work, first published in the same year.

"This controversy took place when the affairs of the French East India Company were in the most disordered state possible. Morellet, who contended for the abolition of the Company and the opening of the trade, had a decided advantage over his oponent (Necker), who appeared as the defender of the Company. The controversy was terminated by government adopting the suggestions of Morellet. The latter, indeed, had been invited to write his first Mémoire by M. d'Invaux, then Comptroller-general; and on the accession of Turgot to the ministry, he received a pension of 2000 livres a year for his services on this occasion" (McCulloch, p. 114-115).

Morellet, by conviction a persistent supporter of free trade, here gives a succint history of the Compagnie des Indes and shows how the directors were benefitting to the detriment of the state. The privileges of the Compagnie des Indes were suspended on August 13, 1769.

The supplementary xxvi pages at the end contain various text further documenting Morellet's arguments, among which a text by Gournay, covering the pages x-xxvi and which is entitled: "Observations sur le rapport fait à M. le Contrôleur-Général, par M. de S le 26 juin 1755, sur l'état de le Compagnie des Indes; par feu M. de Gournay, Intendant du Commerce."

Second work: Kress 6665; INED 3370; Higgs 4701; Sabin 52216; McCulloch, p. 114-115; not in Einaudi; not in Goldsmiths'. First edition.

Necker replied to Morellet's Mémoire with the present work in August 1769 pointing out that the Compagnie was an institution created by the state, for state interests rather than for the interests of the stockholders. The state, after the reorganization of 1725, completely dominated its operations. Funds granted by the king to the company were neither controlled by the stockholders nor granted for their particular interest. These funds were used for the goals of the state, either for warfare or for expenditures that were properly those of the sovereign, not of a commercial company. Necker furthermore argued that the company's commerce in the Indies had always been profitable except during the Seven Years' War.

Third work: Kress 6660; Einaudi 4021; Higgs 4702; INED 3300; Goldsmiths' 10543; Sabin 50595.

First edition.

Morellet's response to Necker. Morellet was in no doubt employed to make out a particular case (see the note to the first text), but in none of the contemporary replies to his pamphlet is any serious argument found to discredit his chief facts: that a commercial company which is not self-supporting ought to be abandoned and that there are more important uses to which the public revenue can be put than in maintaining a company which is bankrupt if left to itself (see: Cambridge Modern History, vol. vi, pp. 549-550).

Loosely added to these three volumes:

Peter Barlow [1776 – 1862]. Three unique honorary appointments and memberships. Woolwich Academy, The Russian Academy of Sciences, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

DSB vol. I, pp. 459 - 460 [article by Harold I. Sharlin]: Peter Barlow [1776 - 1862], English mathematician and physicist. 'Although he was self-educated, Barlow successfully competed for the position of assistant mathematics master at the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, in 1801, Mathematical assistant in 1806 [the above Diploma!]. While there he wrote mathematical articles... he also published 'An elementary Investigation of the Theory of Numbers' [1811], 'A New Mathematical and Philosophical Dictionary' [1814], and 'New Mathematical Tables' [1814], later known as 'Barlow's Tables'. ... Barlow's reputation was established with the publication of his 'Essay on the Strength and Stress of Timber' [1817], the result of experiments he conducted at the Woolwich dockyard and arsenal ... Barlow was made an honorary member of the Institution of Civil Engineers in 1820. In 1819 Barlow became interested in the compass deviation by the iron in ships. He therefore investigated the action of terrestrial magnetism and conducted a series of experiments on the interaction of iron objects and compass needles. His results, [were] published as 'Essay on Magnetic Attractions' [1820], ...for his discoveries in magnetism he was made a fellow of the Royal Society in 1823 and received the Copley Medal in 1825. He also received international recognition and several awards for his contribution to navigation [2 very important international awards / honours NOT mentioned in the DSB article: His membership of the St. Petersbourg Academy of Sciences 1826 and his Foreign Honorary membership of the American Society [=Academy] of Arts and Sciences, 1832]. Both also offered here!!! Barlow was also concerned with electromagnetism and unsuccessfully attempted to make an electric telegraph [the insulation failed]... Around 1827 Barlow became interested in the calculation for the curvature of achromatic object glasses, and in the course of his research he developed a telescope lens consisting of colorless liquid [= carbon disulfide] between two pieces of glass. The "Barlow lens", a modification of this telescope lens, is a negative achromatic combination of flint glass and crown glass.': His work on this achromatic lens that uses liquid carbon disulfide was executed in the years 1827 - 1832 in collaboration with the optician and instrument maker George Dolland.

EDGEWORTH, Francis Ysidro.
Mathematical psychics. An essay on the application of mathematics to the moral sciences. London, C. Kegan Paul & Co. 1881.
VIII,150p. Later blue cloth, back with two gilt-lettered black labels, yellow unprinted wrappers (front with a small repair) preserved. Bookplate to front paste-down, small blind stamp to corner of title, small printed number stamp at foot of page V and another stamp at top of page 99.
¶ First edition. Edgeworth's most important work 'a quantitative application of utilitarian ethics to economic life ... it was a deep and elusive work, which even went over the heads of many of his colleagues ... Its use of indifference curves caught on only slowly and that of the core of an exchange economy has only recently attracted attention as a result of developments in games theory'. *Einaudi 1716. Mattioli 1121. M.Blaug, Great economists before Keynes, p.69. € 6500

LUXEMBURG, Rosa. Die industrielle Entwicklung Polens. Leipzig, Duncker & Humblot 1898. VI,[2],95,[1]p. Orig. printed wrappers, somewhat stained and damaged, upper wrapper and back with repairs. One leaf loosening, two circular stamps on half-title, else inside clean.
¶ First trade edition. The book for which Luxemburg received her PhD from the Faculty of Law and Economics of the University of Zurich. In it 'she argued that the development of industrial capitalism in the Polish kingdom depended heavily on the Russian market and that the economy of the Polish kingdom would never be more than a part of the tsarist economy'. € 1750

PHOONSEN, Johannes. Berichten en vertoogen, raackende het bestier van den omslagh van de wissel-banck tot Amsterdam. Ingestelt door J.Ph. Amsterdam, Jan Bouman 1677. 3 parts in 1 volume. Small 8vo. [XVI],[2],62, 87, [3],86p. Contemp. vellum, a bit dust-soiled. Bound with another work by the author.
¶ First (only) edition. These 'Memoirs and recommendations relating to the Amsterdam exchange bank' are among the best that has been written on financial matters in Holland in the seventeenth century. The author was an esteemed authority on matters of commerce and finance, a man of great discernment and erudition, often consulted by the Amsterdam authorities, particularly when the exchange bank, guaranteed by the city, was involved. Of his many advices in this field the present three are the only printed, but others remain in manuscript.
The first of these advices is a plea for the establishment of a 'bank-courant', thus enabling merchants to keep a bank account in currency. The second part contains measures for bettering the security of the bank, no doubt provoked by serious cases of fraud that had happened the last years. The third part contains various other recommendations for improvements in the operating and services of the bank, i.a. a proposal for the pawning of specie and bullion.
Preceded by: Johannes PHOONSEN, Wissel-styl tot Amsterdam. Amsterdam, Jan Bouman en Daniel vanden Dalen 1681. 2 parts in 1 volume. [VIII],336,306,[4]p. € 2250

SPINOZA, Baruch. Zwey Abhandlungen über die Kultur des menschlichen Verstandes und über die Aristokratie und Demokratie. Herausgegeben und mit einer Vorrede begleitet von S.H.Ewald. Leipzig, in der von Schönfeldschen Handlung 1785. Small 8vo. XVI,96,242,IV,243-246,V-VIII,247-248,257-263p., some errors in pagination and somewhat disorderly bound, but complete. Contemp. calf, gilt back with red label, decorated endpapers, little rubbed, upper cover somewhat dented. Browned.
¶ First German edition of 'De intellectus emendatione' and 'Tractatus politicus', translated from the Latin of the 'Opera posthuma'. Translated by Schack Hermann Ewald (1745-1824), a court clerk and freemason from Gotha who also translated the 'Tractatus theologico-politicus' and 'Ethica' into German, published 1787-93 as 'Spinoza's Philosophische Schriften'. *Kingma & Offenberg 27. KOPS, J. Flora Batava, afgebeeld door en van wegens J.C. Sepp en zoon; beschreven door Jan Kops. Amsterdam, Leiden, Haarlem, s'Gravenhage, J.C. Sepp en Zoon, and others, (1800)-1920. Volumes 1-25 (of 28) & 1 index volume. 4to (295 x 240mm). With 1 handcoloured engraved title page and 2000 coloured plates, engraved and coloured by hand, lithographed and coloured by hand and chromolithographed. End 19th century uniform half calf, gilt and blind-stamped spines, marbled sides (some vols. early 20th century). € 18 500

¶ A fine, almost complete set, of the most beautiful flora of the Netherlands. During a period of 134 years 461 parts were published. As this is a most unusual long period of time complete sets are of the greatest rarity. It is one of the great national floras and comparable in extent and span with the 'Flora Danica', the 'Flora Graeca' and a few others. The first 13 volumes were published by Sepp & Zoon, a firm which excercised the utmost care in producing colour-plate books of outstanding quality. The first 24 volumes have the plates handcoloured, the remaining volumes have chromolithographs. For the first 10 volumes Kops was the editor, to be followed by several other editors and publishers. The quality of the plates, especially of the earlier volumes, is excellent, and makes it one of the most attractive botanical illustrated works published in the Netherlands. The index volume covers vols. 1-14. The text is both in Dutch and French. A complete copy has 28 vols with 2240 plates. The work was issued in 8vo and 4to. The present copy is the precious 4to edition. ¶ The first volume has a list of 232 subscribers. Little did they know that it would take 134 years for the whole work to be completed, so that none of them was to see the last instalment. As publication took so long, it became a true monument of nineteenth-century book production, since it is extremely rare for so many developments in printing and illustration techniques to be reflected in one single work. ¶ *Great Flower Books, p. 63; Nissen BBI 2247. ROYEN, WILLEM II VAN. Two Silver Pheasants and a Black-crowned Night Heron in a landscape. Signed and dated, lower right W V ROYEN 1735, also dated lower left: 1735, inscribed in brown ink on verso: 'dese vogels sijn bij d: edl: aghtb: Heer de Heer Theodorus deLeeuw/ na het Leven getekent inde Lust plaas van sijn edelen genaamt/ elsenburg door Mr Willem van Rojen 1735. Watercolour and gouache over traces of black chalk within black chalk framing lines. 303 by 436mm. € 20 000

¶ As the inscription on the verso records, these birds were seen by Van Royen in the collection of the eminent Amsterdam merchant, Theodorus de Leeuw (1679-1744), at his country house of Elsenburg, on the river Vecht, near Maarssen. De Leeuw lavished considerable resources on improvements to this rural retreat, and seems to have commissioned Daniel Marot to design an elaborate summerhouse in the grounds (for further information, see R. van Luttervelt, 'De Buitenplaatsen aan de Vecht' 1948, pp. 100-2). Another watercolour of birds by Van Royen (sold, Dordrecht, Mak, 5 October 1993, lot 37) is also dated 1735 and inscribed with the name of De Leeuw, and there is also an 18th century sale record of a painting by Royen of birds on the terraces of Elsenburg (sold, Amsterdam, P. van der Schley/ J. Yver, 18 July 1786, lot 277). Together these are the only three known examples of the works by Van Royen that can be linked with a specific patron. Relatively few drawings of Van Royen are known, but these include dated works from as early as 1711 (sold, London, Sotheby's, 19 June 1973, lot 62), which stand as important precursors of the bird watercolours of Aert Schouman and the younger generation of Dutch artists.

¶ Exhibited: Leeuwarden, Museum Het Princessehof, 'Oude tekeningen uit drie eeuwen; Collectie Hans van Leeuwen', 1977, cat. no 46; Amsterdam/ Dordrecht 1994-5, cat. no. 42, reproduced in colour p. 6.

RUMPHIUS, G.E. Herbarium Amboinense, plurimas complectens arbores, frutices, herbas, plantas terrestres, & aquaticas, quae in Amboina et adjacentibus reperiuntur insulis ... nunc primum in lucem edita ... J. Burmanni/ Het Amboinsch Kruidboek, dat is beschryving van de meest bekende Boomen, Heesters, Kruiden, Land- en Water-Planten die men in Amboina, en de omleggende Eylanden vind ... nagezien en uitgegeeven door J. Burmannus. Amsterdam, M. Uytwerf/, F. Changuion, J. Catulle, Uytwerf, 1741-1755. 6 volumes (bound in 4). Folio (390 x 255mm). With an engraved portrait of Rumphius and another of Burmann, 699 fine engraved plates (on 698 leaves), engraved vignettes. Early 19th century green half vellum, marbled sides (backcover hinge of vol. V splitting but firm). € 28 000

¶ First edition, mixed first and second issue, with the rare 'Auctuarium' at the end of the last volume. A rare complete copy of the first great survey of the flora of the East-Indies. "Few important scientific works have come to print under greater difficulties" (Hunt). "The flora of Amboina is typically Malayan, although a few Australian types are present as in other parts of the Malayan region. Practically all the species found along the seacoast are of general distribution from India to Malaya and Polynesia ..."(Merrill). ¶ In 1652 Rumphius enlisted with the Dutch East Indies Company and took up residence in Amboina in 1653. His sight was failing and by 1670, when his great work was ready for publication, he had become blind. His bad fortunes continued when in 1674 his wife was killed in an earthquake, and in 1687 a fire destroyed his library including his original drawings. These were drawn anew by his son Paul, and in 1692 the manuscript of the first six volumes was sent to Holland for publication, but the ship carrying it was destroyed by the French. Copies of the manuscript for the complete work did not reach Holland until 1697, where it languished for 32 years in the archives of the Dutch East Indies Company. It was Jan Burmann who rescued it and prepared it for publication. ¶ Titles of volumes V and VI mounted, 3 or 4 leaves with stamp in the margin, 1 text page with marginal repair. Volume V with some occasional damstaining. Plate 70 of volume V was never published (see Hunt). The text is both in Latin and Dutch. The plates and text of the first and second issue are identical apart from the dates on the titles. Added to our set is 'Neuer Schlüssel zu Rumph's Herbarium amboinense' by J.K. Hasskarl. Halle 1866. pp. 247, vi.

Unieke collectie in een convoluut van 2 halflinnen banden van ruim 500 z/w platen (42x29 cm), bijna alle van Joh. Braakensiek (1868-1940). De platen zijn verschenen tussen 1885 en 1896. Incl. portretten van 'Bekende Tijdgenoten' (ca. 50), enkele gevouwen platen (soms met beschadigingen), en één gevouwen Stadsgezicht van Amsterdam in kleur (3-4-1891). Bladen aan de randen gebruind, papier soms gebruind. € 3950

Hij introduceerde haar in kringen van vrijdenkers, vrijmetselaars en bracht haar in contact met het Neomalthusianisme. ¶ Extremely rare plano-printed typespecimens (five in total) by Jacobus Clemens Perk (1818-1868). He was a (half-)uncle of Dutch poet, Jacques Perk (1859-1881). Jacobus was the older (half-)brother of writer and feminist Betsy Perk (1837-1906). Clemens wrote -just as his famous nephew and sister- poetry, but only one of his poems appears to have been published in The Gids in 1848. Clemens was largely known in Delft as an entrepeneur (just as his father Adrianus). He founded an insurance-company, called Archimedes around 1850 (also mentioned along with his printing-studio on one of the sheets), and the newspaper: Delflandsche Courant (later continued as: Delfische courant). His career as a publisher and printer must have been very short, as he is mentioned in the Dutch Royal Library as a publisher only once. That he also formally started the printing-studio: Boek- en Handels-drukkerij van J. C. Perk was previously unknown, these plano type-specimens are most likely the only ones left in existence.

¶ Collated and complete with all plates present. With a nice armorial bookplate (and signature in ink) of James Rigg of Downfield (1707-?), a medical doctor. This is the first English edition, published as a large quarto, the second edition was published as a smaller sized 8vo, thus had to be published in three volumes. This first edition in English appeared the year after the original French publication. Tournefort was a botanist who set out for the Levant in 1700 at the behest of Louis XIV, travelling extensively in the Archipelago, visiting most of the islands in the Cyclades and many in the Northern Sporades. He spent a considerable time in Crete before going on to Constantinople and Asia Minor. cf. Atabey 959-961 (various editions) and Blackmer 1318 (first edition, 1717).

BINDINGS - EARLY PRINTING – INCUNABULA – LAW - SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

PETER MARTYR D'ANGHIERA (1457 - 1526), GONZALO FERNÁNDEZ DE OVIEDO (1478 - 1557), FRANCISCO DE JEREZ (1495 - C. 1565)

Three parts, infrequently found together: one of the earliest accounts of European contacts with Native Americans, based on reports by Columbus and Cortés, an Italian translation of a work by Fernández de Oviedo and the Italian translation of a Spanish account of Pizarro's campaign against the Incas. Two copies only worldwide complete of both maps, and a very small number with one of them, possibly because the maps were sold separately, at an additional cost. More maps were expected but apparently never made.

Caccialupi

Peter Martyr d'Anghiera

CACCIALUPI, GIOVANNI BATTISTA Tractatus de debitoribus suspectis et fugitivis, Et de tractatu de pactis, ... [Pavia, Franciscus de Nebiis,1498-99].

Two parts in 1 volume, small folio, [16] leaves, magnificent XVIII century Roman brown calf, Barberini's coat-of-arms within a gilt, richly decorated frame on both plates. Gothic fonts, two columns of 73 lines each page. Some contemporary underlining and annotations. Very fine copy with a distinguished provenance.

Third and last XV century edition, including two of the most important monographs on civil law by Caccialupi. The first deals with the theme of the legal relevance of the debtor's flight as an index circumstance and prodromal element to the situation of insolvency of companies, a famous res dubiae in common law; the second is an extensive and analytical commentary of the pacta, a locus as neuralgic as widely frequented by the interpreters of the Justinian compilation. Magnificent incunable, one of Caccialupi's best jurisprudencial doctrinal proofs. Very rare, only 14 complete copies known. € 8900

RARE DARWINIANA IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

ONLY ONE AUCTION RECORD

Folio leaf (35.5 x 22.7 cm). ¶ Title page from an extremely rare collection of four etchings of grotesque masks, after original designs by the Italian artist Aloisio Giovannoli (1550-1618). This is from the only dated edition, which is also the only one recorded in bibliographies. At least partly based upon the work of the French Renaissance artist René Boyvin (ca. 1525-1598), and inspired by leaves, fruit and shells, therefore reminiscent of the works by his contemporary, Giuseppe Arcimboldo. A complete suite would comprise of this title leaf and 38 plates. Only one auction record in this century (Sotheby's, 2012, 7500 British Pounds). Edges uncut, slightly irregular, but with widest possible margins. Some, mostly marginal soiling and spotting, a few short tears, otherwise in very good condition. HIGHLIGHTS OF DUTCH NEWS PHOTOGRAPHY: THE WEDDING OF PRINCESS BEATRIX

Jaring, C. [Photography] Original news photos of Amsterdam 1966: Provo's, Princess Beatrix & Prince Claus, riots, etc. Amsterdam, unpublished, 1966. 12 original glossy photo prints (ca. 18 x 24 cm, one smaller, 16.0 x 10.5 cm) with copyright stamp "Group 45" on versos. ¶ A suite of press photos by the Amsterdam photographer, journalist and artist Cor Jaring (1936-2013). Probably all taken on 10 March 1966, the day of the controversial wedding of the later queen of the Netherlands, Beatrix, and the German diplomat Claus von Amsberg. The wedding was controversial because Von Amsberg was German, and during WWII member of the Hitler Jugend. The photos show demonstrators (provos) and police officers making arrests on and near the Royal Palace at Dam Square. Jaring is perhaps most famous for his photos of John Lennon and Yoko Ono during their "Bed-In" at the Amsterdam Hilton in 1969. Some minor signs of handling, but no other blemishes, and in general in a very good condition. € 1200

A FINE, LARGE HAND-COLOURED PLATE BY KEULEMANS, SHOWING ONE OF DARWIN'S FINCHES

Keulemans, J. G. The Galapagos finch, Camarhynchus variegatus. London, The Linnean Society of London, 1870. Folio (29.2 x 24.2 cm). Single, lithographed leaf - finely coloured by hand. In cardboard frame (35.0 x 24.0 cm). ¶ A fine, large, originally hand-coloured illustration by the famous Dutch bird illustrator John Gerrard Keulemans (1842-1912), showing the vegetarian finch, Camarhynchus variegatus Sclater and Salvin, 1870 (male and female). Actually the illustrations of the type specimens of this famous bird - being one of the 'Darwin finches' of the Galapagos islands. Keulemans is widely regarded as the best bird painter of his time, if not the best ever. Published in the Society's Transactions (vol. 9), the leading zoological series in the 19th century, and one of the very few published on this large format. A few taches de beauté, underscoring its authenticity, otherwise an excellent, clean copy. € 250

AN ULTRA-RARE COMPLETE COPY OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WORK ON COTE D'AZUR BUTTERFLIES

Millière, P. Iconographie et description de chenilles et lépidoptères inédits. I - III. [Complete]. Lyon, F. Dumoulin; Paris, F. Savy, Lyon H. Georg. 36 parts in four. 4to (28.0 x 19.8 cm). 1430 pp.; 155 finely hand-coloured, lithographed plates. Uniform contemporary half calf over marbled boards. Last, small, part in original wrappers.
¶ Written and illustrated by the French pharmacist and entomologist Pierre Millière (1811-1887), who settled in Cannes, Cote d'Azur, and then surveyed its typical Mediterranean fauna, resulting in one of the most beautifully illustrated entomological works of the time. Each plate shows various butterflies or moths, and their caterpillars, pupae, and fodder plants, in exquisite colouring. Published in instalments over a long period, during troubled times. Therefore, complete(d) copies are quite rare. An excellent, complete copy. Of complete copies (and even of copies with all but the 155th plate) there are no auction records. Hagen I, p. 542; Junk Rara II, p. 143; Nissen ZBI, 2823. € 12 500

A WONDERFUL PRINT FROM ALPHONE MUCHA'S "DOCUMENTS DECORATIFS"

Mucha, A. M. Documents decoratifs. Planche 19. [Examples of engraved titles] Paris, Librairie Central des Beaux Arts, 1901. Folio (46 x 33 cm). Original print. ¶ A fine print from Alphonse Mucha's quintessential Art Nouveau book, Documents décoratifs. Alfons "Alphonse" Maria Mucha (1860-1939) was a Czech decorative artist, who wanted to bring aesthetic values into arts and crafts. He invented the "Mucha Style" which soon became known as Art Nouveau. His work immediately became immensely popular and has remained very sought-after. This plate shows examples of how to apply his new, highly decorative style in books - hence the black and white printing. Edges with minimal wear, otherwise fine. Very rare, especially in this excellent state. € 750

DUTCH LITERATURE, EMPHASIZING THE 19TH & 20TH CENTURY TILL C. 1960
FINE PRINTING – PRESS BOOKS & TYPOGRAPHY – 20TH CENTURY/AVANT GARDE

Door tijdgebrek en gebrek aan hulp - o.a. door corona - lukte het ons niet om, voor een paar bladzijden in deze gezamenlijke catalogus van de leden van de NVvA, een representatieve keuze uit onze grote voorraad Nederlandse en Vlaamse literatuur (circa 100.000 banden) - tezamen met wat men tegenwoordig 'Fine Printing noemt - in goede beschrijvingen te vatten. Dus voegen we een kleine bloemlezing uit verschenen Vlugschriften toe.

Nu de catalogus verschenen is, kunt u op onze website schuhmacher.blot.im (scan de qr-code) een kleine maar representatieve keuze vinden, netjes beschreven en voorzien van platen en plaatjes. Daarvoor koos goede vriend Paul, boekhistoricus aan de UVA en conservator bij de universiteitsbibliotheek, een selectie uit onze oude drukken. Min of meer als dank voor het lenen van maar liefst 11 dozen gevuld met 'oud boek' voor zijn colleges die, vanwege de epidemie die inmiddels weer voorbij is, on line moesten worden gegeven vanaf zijn zolder. We hopen samen nog een artikel te publiceren over het gebruik en hergebruik van de platen en voorstellingen naar Van der Venne, die hij maakte voor Cats.

Mijn voorkeur gaat te vaak uit - zoals in onze laatste vlugschriften Oud en Nieuw - naar de rederijkers - die naast hun toneelstukken ook in onze lage landen nieuwe ideeën verspreidden. Paul kiest ook - samen met dichter Daan - uit de 19de-eeuw, de vele dozen met die boeken ontsieren de winkel in hoge mate. Die dozen vulden tot een paar jaar geleden in een dubbel pakhuis een verdieping. De voorraad studies en tekstedities (behalve de vroege 19de-eeuwse) gaf ik cadeau aan de universiteit te Leuven - de bibliotheek is zoals bekend tweemaal gebombardeerd. Mijn vriend Dirk de Geest heeft dat geregeld, de man die mijn publicatie over de omslag- en bandvarianten en hergebruik van zetsels bij Willem Elsschot inleidde. De collectie die daaraan ten grondslag ligt, gaf ik overigens eerder aan wat vroeger het AMVC heette en nu het Letterenhuis. Zo heet het Letterkundig Museum tegenwoordig Literatuurmuseum. Onze vriend, conservator (toen heette dat nog geen directeur) Gerrit Borgers - was onze vaste lunchvriend op dinsdag - dan spraken we boek. Zijn kennis en enthousiasme leidde ons mede op het pad van de wetenschap. En dat leidde weer tot de Laurens Janszoon Costerprijs, waar ik toch wel trots op ben. We zijn altijd meer verzamelaars en wetenschappers geweest dan handelaren. Max is dood. Ik ben over en probeer zo goed en zo kwaad als het kan - naast het geld voor de boterham met kaas, en af en toe een taartje (bij voorkeur vlaai van Landskroon) - onze zaak voort te zetten.

Wat betreft de keuze op de website: Paul (en Daan) doen dus het oude boek en de 19de eeuw - behalve Multatuli, aan wie ik zelf in de oertijd van ons antiquariaat twee catalogussen wijdde. Daar wil ik nog eens goed naar kijken, naar het hergebruik van zetsels. Paul kijkt weer naar Wolff en Deken en naar de rare dunne krengetjes van Bilderdijk. Verder Tachtig en de voorlopers: Emants, en Willem Warner van Lennep - diens dissertatie en zijn onvoorstelbaar zeldzame Keats vertaling (als we die kunnen vinden).

Van Kloos is er een luxe exemplaar van zijn Verzen 1894 met I op de band, een 'bloemlezing' door Du Perron die pagina's verwijderde die hem niet bevielen. Van de grootste dichter - Gorter - een exemplaar van een vooruitgave, een ander exemplaar is inmiddels in bezit van een goede vriend. Met Gorter als voorbeeld wil ik iets nieuws doen: een Visuele Bibliografie maken, waarin afbeeldingen de hoofdrol spelen en de teksten niet meer dan een toelichting zijn op wat de lezer (kijker) zelf kan zien: bandvarianten, hergebruik van zetsels, verschillende schutbladen bij hetzelfde boek, verschil in papiersoorten enzovoort.

Van Leopold: naast de eerste druk van Verzen -verzorgd door Boutens- een tweede druk, indrukwekkend vormgegeven door S.H. de Roos - en de uitgave van de Kunera Pers van Oostersch. We hadden zelfs een keer een bundel vertalingen van Perzische gedichten met kruisjes en aantekeningen in Leopolds handschrift. Dat boek is nu veilig in de Amsterdamse Universiteitsbibliotheek, dankzij Ton Croiset van Uchelen. Dat kostte veel geld - maar ook een antiquaar kan dergelijke boeken alleen maar krijgen door er goed voor te betalen!
Op de website komt een aparte afdeling voor onze collectie Slauerhoff.

Antiquariaat Schuhmacher

Het belangrijkste deel van onze voorraad wordt gevormd door boeken uit het Interbellum en dan met name de schrijvers en dichters die in de tijdschriften Het Getij, De Vrije Bladen en Forum publiceerden, zoals Ter Braak, Du Perron, Vestdijk en bijvoorbeeld ook de Fonteiners, de medewerkers van het tijdschriftje Het Fonteintje (ook te zien), met Richard Minne - een dichter die ik privé verzamelde. Het wordt tijd om ook voor hem een goed nieuw tehuis te zoeken. Alle tijdschriften waar die grote mannen in publiceerden hebben we, vaak in veelvoud.
Als uitvloeisel van dit alles en als aanvulling hebben we uiteraard ook dat wat tegenwoordig 'Fine Printing' heet. Boeken verzorgd door Charles Nypels (zo goed als compleet), Stols, Van Krimpen gedrukt door Joh. Enschedé, de Halcyon pers, Trajectum ad Mosam, Luchtkasteelen, To the Happy Few, Van Krimpens Palladium en natuurlijk veel andere van Stols en Enschedé.

De collectie illegale (clandestiene) uitgaven, daar is veel van verkocht maar er is ook weer aangevuld, zoals de verbluffende collectie van de uitgaven door A.A. Balkema - als collectie te koop maar van veel exemplaren ook nog losse exemplaren.

Met het na-oorlogse gebeuren, zoals de Drukkers in de Marge (zoals de collectie van Pablo van Dijk, die als Bébert een aantal voor zijn rekening nam, maar veel meer zelf verzamelde), zijn we aan het eind gekomen van deze opsomming. Dat deel wordt verzorgd door mijn oude vriend en steun en toeverlaat Mark.
Zie onze website! En vooral: bezoek ons in het Marriot Hotel en als u daar niet op kunt wachten, kom dan gewoon na telefonische afspraak bij ons langs, op ons welbekende adres aan de Geldersekade nummer 107.

Wilma Schuhmacher.
Oud! Maar niet der dagen zat!

Op de volgende pagina's een zeer kleine keuze uit onze laatste Vlugschriften. Alles in eerste druk, tenzij anders vermeld. Voor meer: zie onze website schuhmacher.blot.im (scan de qr-code) en/of www.schuhmacher.nl. (waarop onze Slauerhoff-collectie!) Voor nog meer: bezoek ons op de beurs of, na telefonische afspraak, op de Geldersekade.

Greene, Robert
Robert Greene was a minor map-seller who is best known for his co-publication of John Adams' large road map of England and Wales in 1677. The map, which is dated 1676, bears Greene's name and his address at the Rose & Crown in Budge Row where he is known to have resided from early 1675 until his death in 1688. He placed an advertisement for a 'New Map of the World' in the Term Catalogues for May 1676. The geographical details on his world map have been taken from current Dutch sources; in the corners are contemporarily costumed figures personifying the four continents. Local background is provided by rustic scenes of hunting or (in the case of America) of cannibalism. Shirley 476. € 12 500

¶ Shirley was able to locate only two copies: a damaged one in the British Library and a copy which sold at Sotheby's on December 1, 1983. There is also a copy in the National Library of Australia and the New York Public Library holds another one, which is bound into a Samuel Thornton sea atlas, dated 1686. In 2021 Barry Lawrence Ruderman offered another copy (see The Barry Lawrence Ruderman Map Collection at Stanford Libraries.) This makes our copy the sixth known worldwide.

This manuscript follows the well-known prayer-book of Nakatenus, but it contains only a part of that work, although it is complete in itself. Covers bit scraped, a few small stains of the red colouring of the calligraphed capitals of the chapter-titles, but otherwise a fine example of a well-kept 18th-century manuscript.*

Compendio de la Ex(em)plar Vida, Y Santa Muerte (d)El Pe. Juan de S. (an) Tiago, Sacerdote Professo del Quarto Voto (d)E La Compa. De Iesus. Por el Pe. Juan de Torres de la misma Compa. Y Que comunica en carta circular a lo(s) Pes. Supes. de la Provincia de Andalucia. El P. Vicente Morales Rector del Colegio de la Ciud. de Cordoba A Maior Gloria de Dios en la memoria de los exemplos de su Siervo. De vna impressa en Cordova la Llana, en la Imprenta del Colegio de N. Sa. de la Anunción. Por Francisco Villalon. Spanish manuscript on paper from ca 1770 after the publication from 1763 with the same title. 8vo, (4), 159 pp. Flex. contemp. vellum. Uncut. With a portrait-engraving of Juan de Santiago from one of the early editions of the work. Page 102 illustrated with a fine, large ink drawing depicting intertwining branches around a water-well with birds. € 1250

¶ Description of the life and death of the Jesuit Juan de Santiago in 24 chapters. The manuscript follows the work with the same title by Juan de Torres (1547 - 1599). Numbering of pages a bit erratic. Vellum stained, wrinkled and somewhat smaller than the paper leaves, borders of first two leaves frayed and damaged, throughout a few stains. Altogether a neatly written, nice contemporary Spanish manuscript.

Four uniform volumes of travel accounts to France, Northern Italy and Switzerland between 1882 and 1886. Oblong-8vo, containing altogether 242 written pages with very readable travel accounts (together with 72 blank pages). Uniform plain cloth. Marbled endpapers. € 600

¶ Vol 1: France I-III. Touraine & Bretagne. Vol 2: France IV. Touraine II, Poitou & Champagne. Vol 3: Midi de la France. Nord de l'Italie. 1886. I. Vol 4: Midi de la France. Nord de l'Italie. 1886. II. This volume illustrated with 3 drawings of the different tunnels of the whole complex (Gorge de la Biaschina, Gorge du Riottino and the Tunnels tournants près de Wasen). A splendid example of a 19th-century travel account to France, Italy and Switzerland of a very well-to-do family with extensive descriptions of the towns visited and especially the churches there. The time that was taken by each and every trip is meticulously noted (whether by train, by coach or by boat).

OLD AND RARE

's GRAVESANDE, Willem Jacob.

¶ Unpublished Dutch manuscript version of s' Gravesande's illustrated treatise on art and optical devices by an unknown translator. The Essai de perspective includes the first appearance of his famous excursus on the use of the camera obscura by artists, the Usage de la Chambre obscure pour le dessein, in which 's Gravesande illustrates and describes his extraordinary invention of a camera obscura in the form of a sedan chair (chaise à porteur), following to its logical conclusion the recent trend of making such optical devices more portable by making even the artist himself portable.- Vagnetti, EIVb7; DSB V, 509-511; H. Gernsheim, The History of Photography, pp. 15-17.

¶ Important instrument by the French „psycho-biophysicist" Charles Henry (1859-1926) that influenced greatly the Neo-impressionists, especially the divisionist style of painting of Georges Seurat and Paul Signac. Henry developed a scientific aesthetic of both color and form; his continuous color circle based on the spectrum was related to Chevreul's basis plane.
